U.S. Demands Czechs Free Relief Worker

Czech Foreign Office Hasn't Made Reply

By A. I. Goldberg
Prague, Czechoslovakia, April 8—(AP)—The United States embassy demanded today that Czechoslovakia authorities quickly release Miss Vlasta Vraz, an American relief worker who now has spent a week in jail.

Thus far there has been no reply from the Czechoslovak foreign office to the embassy's note. Foreign office attaches said "there is no comment."

Miss Vraz, of Berwyn, Ill., is head of the Prague office of American relief for Czechoslovakia. Under the auspices of that organization, she has distributed about $4,000,000 worth of food, medicine and clothing in Czechoslovakia since 1945.

Arrested Saturday
Police arrested her at her office last Saturday, but told her she would be released later that day after questioning. The American embassy was not notified by the Czechoslovak government, but learned of her arrest from other sources.

After being held incommunicado for three days, Miss Vraz finally was allowed to see a United States consul. She told the consul she thought she was being detained for an investigation of the political activities of others.

In addition to demanding her early release, the embassy also asked to be advised without delay of the facts and circumstances surrounding the case, including specific charges, if any, against Miss Vraz. Inquiry also was made as to whether she could obtain a lawyer of her own choice.

Further Action Contemplated
It was understood at the embassy that Rep. Adolph J. Sabath (D-Ill.) has sent a letter to President Klement Gottwald asking for her release and that further action is contemplated in both the U. S. state department and congress.

Both Americans and interested Czechs are waiting to see what welcome a Czechoslovak trade-seeking delegation will get in Washington in view of the recently developed facility of Czechoslovak government offices for losing, forgetting or ignoring representations from the American embassy.

Miss Vraz is the third American to land in a Czechoslovak jail cell and stay there in recent months. The other two are American soldiers who wandered across the border and were jailed as spies last December.

Subsequently the soldiers were tried in secret and sentenced to prison terms of 10 to 12 years.

Giant Transport Carries 100,000 Pounds Into Air

Fort Worth, Tex., April 15—(AP)—Convair's Giant X-45 transport, largest plane in the world, took off from Carswell air base this afternoon with a 100,000-pound weight load—the heaviest ever lifted by a plane.

Company officials stressed the flight was in no manner a "stunt" but was a part of the regular flight testing program required by the Air Force before it accepts the huge craft for purchase.

The plane is designed to carry 400 men fully armed or 300 litter patients with their attendants. Its combat twin, the B-36, is the largest bomber in the world.

Today's flight was the big plane's tenth and its pay-load was described as equivalent to the weight of 400 men with combat equipment.

Identical in its 230-foot wingspread with the B-36, the X-45 has a double-deck fuselage 182 feet in length—exceeding the 163-foot length of the B-36.

The previous load-lifting record was believed established here Jan. 29. At that time a B-36 took off from Carswell base with 84,000 pounds of dummy bombs and dropped them on a bombing range near Muroc air base, Calif.

Today's 100,000-pound load was composed principally of bars of zinc alloy used in aircraft tooling. Because of the metal's high density, the 30,000-cubic foot capacity of the fuselage interior was only partially filled.

The X-45's six pusher-type Pratt-Whitney engines develop 3,000-horsepower each and its fuel tanks have a capacity of 21,116 gallons. The big ship is designed for a maximum speed of more than 300 miles an hour, a service ceiling of 30,000 feet and range of 8,100 miles.

SIGNS VA BILL
Washington, April 15—(AP)—President Truman today signed legislation providing $555,890,000 for education and unemployment benefits to veterans for the next three months.

Ambassador To Iran Goes Home To Moscow

Tehran, Iran, April 15—(AP)—Soviet Ambassador Ivan Satchikov left Tehran for Russia today in an atmosphere of strain developed by recent diplomatic exchanges and border incidents.

It was not announced whether he will return. However, sources close to the Soviet embassy said the ambassador's wife remained in Tehran. Satchikov, who has been stationed in the Iranian capital three years, spent two months in Moscow for medical treatment in 1947.

Tension between Russia and Iran, never long absent since the end of World War II, has increased in the last three months.

One factor was the wounding of Shah Reza Pahlavi Feb. 4 by a gunman police identified as a supporter of the Tudeh (Communist) party. The Tudeh party has been outlawed and its leaders placed on trial.

Two border clashes have occurred. Though casualties were light, Iranian army sources viewed the incidents seriously. The weekly newspaper Tudeh, an unofficial mouthpiece of the army, said today the Russians moved up tanks in both cases. Soviet infantry now on the frontier was reported to have motorized support.

The Russians have closed their consulates in four Iranian cities and there are reports the consulates who remain are packed and ready to leave.

States Need For Stronger Metals For Fast Planes

Los Angeles, April 15—(AP)—Present-day metals are not standing the strain of supersonic airspeeds, the Western Metals Congress was told today, but:

"Great strides of metallurgical development are now underway to develop heat resisting alloys required for aircraft propulsion and to achieve economical and practical methods of fabrication."

The speaker was T. E. Piper, chief materials and process engineer for Northrop Aircraft of Hawthorne, Calif.

"The erosion produced by the elements at subsonic and supersonic speeds may develop to be one of our greatest problems to combat in that lightweight materials presently used will not stand the rain and wind blast at these high speeds. To date no surface coating has been developed."

"Another problem faced by designers and metallurgists is that of temperatures created by air friction on the skin surface at extreme high speeds. At sonic speeds through the intermediate speeds up to 1700 miles per hour, the skin temperatures and subsequently the structural members will have reached temperatures at which substantial deterioration of the physical properties of common airframe materials have occurred."

16,500 Automobile Workers Walkoff In Detroit Area

By The Associated Press
More than 16,500 Detroit auto workers took an early start on Easter vacations Friday and some 21,000 employees in three other cities were voting on whether to strike or work.

About 9,600 persons either walked out of the Ford Motor Co. or were sent home when 25 key workers left the motor line without notice at noon. A walkout of 8,300 other workers has closed Ford's pressed steel plant.

Chrysler Corp. attributed its lay-off of 7,000 workers at two plants to a dispute with its employees in its body framing plant over production.

WALLACE SUPPORTS REDS
Paris, April 15—(AP)—Headquarters of the "world peace congress" said today it had received a message of support from Henry Wallace, Third party standard bearer in the last American presidential election.

The congress is being organized by French Communist leaders. Delegates from more than 50 nations are expected to attend.

by the operation of "worldly and sinful places."

Liberty For Catholic Institutions
Conservation of the "rights" Catholicism have acquired during many centuries in Palestine solemnly and with virtue reaffirmed by the pope.

The pope made his appeal in the second encyclical he has written on Palestine in six months. From its opening Latin words, the encyclical will be known as "Redemptoris Nostri (From Our Redeemer)." He said he was still receiving protests against damage to churches in Palestine, including Catholic institutions.

In the previous encyclical, dated Oct. 24, he demanded that holy places in Palestine be internationalized and expressed sorrow at the fighting then raging between Israeli and Arab forces where Jesus Christ and the Apostles had lived.

Dimitrov's Visit To Russia Makes Diplomats Speculate

London, April 15—(AP)—Western diplomats made a new study today of Russia's relations with her Balkan satellites in the light of the announcement that Bulgarian Premier Georgi Dimitrov is visiting the Soviet Union.

There were three conflicting lines of speculation:
Has Dimitrov actually given up control over Bulgaria?

Has he, as the communists say, gone to Russia for medical treatment?

Or have the Kremlin rulers of the communist world called him on the carpet, possibly to explain how it was possible for nationalist tendencies to develop in Bulgaria?

There were scraps of evidence tending to support all three theories. Actually western diplomats were working on a puzzle in which some of the pieces were missing. A solution must await the receipt of more information from eastern Europe.

Report Commies In China Launch Attack On Taiyuan

Nanking, Saturday, April 16—(AP)—The communists were officially reported to have launched a heavy assault on Taiyuan, northwestern capital of old Marshal Yen Hsi-Shan, while an uneasy truce held sway along the Yangtze.

The government's military news agency said two Red army groups (150,000 men) had been hurled at Taiyuan and fierce fighting was in progress. The scene is nearly 600 miles by air northwest of Nanking.

Military observers said the attack apparently had no relation with the general curb on other communist operations.

Fighting had ceased along the Yangtze river that divides Red north China from the Nationalist south.

This was taken in this capital as a strong indication that the government had yielded to the eight peace terms which the communists have been demanding since January.

Find Missing Boy, 8, Strangled; Sex Maniac's Victim

New York, April 15—(AP)—An eight-year-old boy who left home yesterday to go fishing was found strangled to death today in a one-time Bronx amusement park. After an autopsy, authorities termed his death a sex crime.

The boy, Jack Goldsmith, was said to have been subjected to an immoral attack. He was seen with a man about 40 years old at 7 p.m. yesterday near the spot where the body was found, police said.

A group of children who saw the man said he "looks like a bum" and that they knew him by sight.

Inspector Christian Salseder, in command of Bronx detectives, quickly assigned a dozen or more cars to search for him with a child accompanying detectives in each of the cars.

Jack's body, hidden at a deserted swimming pool in the old amusement park, a Bronx landmark, was found with a belt knotted twice around his neck and a handkerchief stuffed in his mouth. His head was covered with his jacket.

Mother Of Eight Gets Many Offers In Husband Hunt

Salt Lake City, April 15—(AP)—Mrs. Elena Le Baron, the man-hunting mother of eight children, said today a mural painter from Havana, Ill., is leading the race for her heart.

Yesterday the 30-year-old brunette divorcee received a telegram signed Cedric Young Van Rosten in response to her plea for a husband to provide better care for her family than she can give it on relief allowances.

"Am mural artist. Reserve any decision until I arrive Salt Lake. Am confident I'm your man. Letter follows," the telegram said.

Today Mrs. Le Baron, who dabbles in oil painting herself, admitted that the telegram "excites my curiosity. He seems kind of interesting and he might help me with my painting."

She added that she still has an "open mind," however, plans to answer every letter and telegram and "I'm going to check on the proposals that seem interesting." Only yesterday she said "I'm just beginning to realize how many crackpots there are in the world." Her telephone, she said, rings constantly, and she has been deluged with offers since her plea for a husband was made early this week.

EMPLOYMENT IMPROVES
Washington, April 15—(AP)—The employment situation improved slightly during the week ended April 9, Robert Goodwin, employment security director, announced today.

The number of persons drawing unemployment compensation dropped 32,000 for the week to $1,895,000. This was the third straight week of decline.

Informed circles in Sofia derided speculation abroad that Dimitrov may have retired either as premier or as head of the Bulgarian Communist party.

The health angle speculation runs like this:
Dimitrov, 66 and a veteran of rough and tumble communist battles of the last four decades is understood to have been in poor health for some time.

Speculation that Dimitrov may be going into retirement came from Washington. Diplomatic circles in London said they had heard nothing to support rumors that the Bulgarian premier had resigned.

Michael McDermott, press officer of the U. S. state department, told Washington newsmen that the Dimitrov "leave" seems to provide "background to the recent dismissal of Traicho Kostov, deputy premier, and the reported purges of other communists in Bulgaria."

"Apparently these moves were related to the question of the official succession of Dimitrov," McDermott said. "Kostov was the No. 2 Bulgarian communist."

A Bulgarian communique April 5 said Kostov was fired from his government and party jobs because of "gross political and anti-party errors" and an "insincere and unfriendly policy regarding the Soviet Union."

Police Recover All But $650 Of Money Stolen By Banker

New York, April 15—(AP)—The wife of ex-banker Richard Crowe opened a dress box on a closet shelf of their home today—and turned up a wad of $5 and $10 bills which the FBI said was just about the last of the money taken by Crowe in an $883,660 embezzlement.

The money, stuffed carelessly in the box, totaled $6,620, the FBI said, and leaves only $650 not yet accounted for in the March 27 looting of bonds and cash from a National City bank branch here.

After finding the money, Mrs. Crowe, through her lawyer, informed the FBI.

The rest of the missing money had come back the hard way. FBI agents have dug for it in the rain, crawled through attic dust to find it and painstakingly traced other sums through the mail.

The 41-year-old Crowe is in jail under a $100,000 bond. He faces four federal embezzlement indictments which, upon conviction, could put him in prison for 45 years. He was arrested in Daytona Beach, Fla., on April 4.

Find Camping Boys Resting Peacefully In Howling Storm

Port Washington, Wis., April 15—(AP)—The parents of 10 young campers are somewhat rested today after searching the Lake Michigan shore for their sons in last night's howling storm.

The boys, aged 10 to 13, left home during the afternoon for the "Lion's Den," a lake shore camping spot.

When the storm arose, the worried parents set out by automobile to return their offspring. Finding no trace of the campers, the parents feared the party had been blown off the "Lion's Den" bluff into the lake.

Deputy sheriffs and a fire department rescue squad joined the anxious people combing the area in wind and rain.

One group descended the bluff and found campers in the lee of the cliff—sleeping serenely in their prized jungle hammocks.

The boys were annoyed at being awakened and couldn't understand what all the fuss was about.

So the relieved parents allowed them to complete their outing.

The older folks, soggy and cold, went back to warm beds at home.

Stunt Man Chutes From Golden Gate Bridge And Lives

San Francisco, April 15—(AP)—A stunt man parachuted from the Golden Gate bridge today and lived. The drop is about 250 feet.

He was Robert L. Niles, 22, of Oakland, who says he does that sort of thing for a thrill.

He was uninjured when he was picked up from the swift currents that sweep through the entrance to San Francisco Bay.

Truman Plans To Fight For Health Program

Asks Congress To Find U. S. Policy To China

Washington, April 15—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) today demanded a congressional investigation of the state department to find out exactly this country's policy toward China.

In a bluntly-worded statement, he accuses Secretary of State Acheson of what "might be called sabotage of the valiant attempt of the Chinese nationalists to keep at least a part of China free."

This referred to Acheson's opposition to a proposal by Senator McCarran (D-Nev) for the United States to give China $1,500,000,000.

"There is no evidence that the furnishing of additional military material would alter the pattern of current developments in China," he wrote.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) remarked: "If what the secretary says is true, it is a sad and late admission of a fumbling and bumbling China policy."

Bridges, a long-time critic of administration policy toward China, termed Acheson's letter a "thoughtless, tactless, unfriendly and damaging act."

"The secretary of state could hardly harm the free Chinese more if he were to dispatch American divisions to fight with the Chinese communists," the senator declared, adding:

"I think the congress and the people ought to know why Mr. Acheson would write so and who in the state department is relied upon for advice regarding the vital China problem."

To accomplish this, he said, a "grass roots" campaign was undertaken to educate the membership to the value of cooperation and to stimulate membership cooperation.

"Associated Press prestige and eminence originally were built on membership loyalty and cooperation," Cooper said. "The new program will revitalize this principle as the outstanding asset."

Belgium Postpones Taking Over Some German Territory

Brussels, Belgium, April 15—(AP)—The foreign office said tonight Belgium is postponing taking over some German border territory recently granted to it provisionally by western occupation powers.

Early this month the western allies announced some 52 square miles of German territory along the western borders would be placed under control of various neighboring countries.

These shifts are subject to any final over-all peace with Germany. The idea was to make easier telephone and telegraph communications, highway and railroad travel, bridge repairs, administration and the like.

The foreign office communique said Belgium claims to all the territory granted by the allies will become effective April 23. However, it added, the area around Ruetgen and Muentzenich will be left temporarily under German control. The announcement emphasized that Belgium is maintaining her rights to these territories.

FIRST FAMILY WILL HAVE QUIET EASTER
Washington, April 15—(AP)—President Truman, his wife and daughter Margaret will spend Easter together quietly.

Miss Truman, now studying voice in New York, will be here for the weekend. They will attend church services.

No Miracle Claimed In Statue's Weeping

Syracuse, N. Y., April 15—(AP)—The chancellor of the Syracuse Catholic diocese termed today a "phenomenon" the appearance of liquid drops on the face of a broken St. Ann statue when kissed by a school girl. No miracle was claimed.

Shirley Anne Martin reported that the liquid, which many witnesses called "tears," no longer appeared in the eyes of the three-inch plaster head when she pressed her lips to it.

In the first official statement from the diocesan office since throngs began gathering Wednesday at the home of the 11-year-old girl, the Rev. Robert E. Dillon, chancellor, said:

"From the number and the character of the witnesses who have observed the phenomenon, it is certain that drops of liquid have appeared on the face of the statue when the young girl held it and kissed it. The explanation of the fact or its significance has not been established."

The possibility of miracles is established beyond doubt. Whether this phenomenon is an instance of supernatural power at work has not been established.

The girl's maternal grandfather, James Secreti, said he would build a shrine for the statue head on a vacant lot alongside his home and that of the Martins. The two houses are back to back.

Secreti, who operates a printing shop, said he would not accept any donations towards establishing the shrine.

In a letter made public yesterday Acheson said such a move would involve this country in an undertaking of so great a magnitude that it "would almost surely be catastrophic."

In this letter to Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee, Acheson said that China had been given over $2,000,000,000 in U. S. aid since V-J day but that this had not stemmed the Communist forces.

"There is no evidence that the furnishing of additional military material would alter the pattern of current developments in China," he wrote.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) remarked: "If what the secretary says is true, it is a sad and late admission of a fumbling and bumbling China policy."

Bridges, a long-time critic of administration policy toward China, termed Acheson's letter a "thoughtless, tactless, unfriendly and damaging act."

"The secretary of state could hardly harm the free Chinese more if he were to dispatch American divisions to fight with the Chinese communists," the senator declared, adding:

"I think the congress and the people ought to know why Mr. Acheson would write so and who in the state department is relied upon for advice regarding the vital China problem."

To accomplish this, he said, a "grass roots" campaign was undertaken to educate the membership to the value of cooperation and to stimulate membership cooperation.

"Associated Press prestige and eminence originally were built on membership loyalty and cooperation," Cooper said. "The new program will revitalize this principle as the outstanding asset."

Frankfurt, Germany, April 15—(AP)—Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo was freed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay today, because of "many extenuating circumstances," from a five-year prison sentence for shooting her soldier husband during a drinking party.

Mrs. Ybarbo, elated at the news, said she expected to leave by air tomorrow for the United States and a reunion with her 6-year-old son, Jimmy, in New Bedford, Mass.

"I want to get home and take care of my baby," she said in a telephone interview from Bad Wildungen, where she has been detained. "Gen. Clay has never done anything finer in his entire life. I am still numb. I don't expect to sleep tonight. I am very happy. I want to see my boy. I expect to return to my home in Massachusetts (Malden) and live a normal life."

She said she will be under guard until she reaches home.

Truman Urges All Americans To Join In 'Freedom Fair'

Washington, April 15—(AP)—President Truman today urged all Americans to join in a "freedom fair" in Washington next year marking the 150th birthday of the Nation's capital.

Mr. Truman said it should be made "a symbol of America's faith in the Democratic principles upon which our nation was founded."

As ex-officio chairman, the President issued his statement as he met with the national capital sequentiennial commission to plan for the event. He is one of the original boosters of the projected fair.

The commission yesterday authorized the commission to go ahead with elaborate plans for the celebration. The House bill now goes to the senate.

Hunnell, Mo., April 15—(AP)—Andrew Tilden Whitecotton, in critical condition in a Hannibal hospital, was charged with the murder of his wife today. A little while later a coroner's jury held that it was he who killed her with a shotgun before turning the gun on himself.

Whitecotton is 66. His wife was 61. She was a school teacher. The shooting occurred in their kitchen just before noon yesterday. Shelby county Prosecutor Ted A. Bollinger filed the murder charge.

Whitecotton's father, who died in 1944, was a prominent state legislator. He was speaker of the House for two terms, and later a state senator. The son retired from farming three years ago, in ill health.

At the inquest Sheriff Elmer P. Threlkeld testified Whitecotton told him "I did a good job on her but bungled the job on myself. She was a good teacher, yes, but not a good woman."

Mrs. Whitecotton was shot in the back, and her husband in the left shoulder.

The controversy over military appropriations provoked some sharp words the other day between Senator Byrd of Virginia and Congressman Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. They grew out of a broadcast in which Mr. Vinson said that Congress should listen to the Joint Chiefs of Staff rather than to the White House for advice on military spending.

Mr. Byrd said he was shocked that the Joint Chiefs should be urged to by-pass their Commander in Chief. He did not know of any reason why consideration should be given to their recommendations. "I should regard such excesses as have been proposed as insubordination," he added.

"The Joint Chiefs of Staff is the nation's best-qualified authority on military matters," Mr. Vinson replied, "and Congress, in reaching its own decisions, must give careful consideration to what its members have to say."

If this were simply a two-man disagreement it would require no comment. But it is a symptom of a larger disagreement that has been noticeable from time to time at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue.

Senator Byrd has logic on his side. The Joint Chiefs of Staff, whatever their position as military strategists and planners, are advisers to the President in the Cabinet organization. As such they certainly should not be given equal or preferred consideration to the Commander in Chief.

When Henry Wallace, as a Cabinet member, by-passed the President in recommending foreign policy, he was dismissed from his post. Congress raised no howl of protest, either. Yet Mr. Vinson and others would have Congress disregard the Commander in Chief's military recommendations in favor of the much higher figure proposed by his armed forces subordinates.

On Mr. Vinson's behalf it should be said, however, that there have been times when Congress should have said far more heed to the military chiefs than it did. All through the thirties these men were urging an adequate defense force in the face of growing threats of war. But a few weeks before Hitler invaded Poland in 1939, the United States Army was playing war games—literally—with trucks for tanks and broomsticks for guns.

That may be why Mr. Vinson said he would put his confidence in the Joint Chiefs of Staff when it came to deciding "our national needs." But our national needs for defense are not confined to the military budget, as they once were. There is now a Marshall Plan. There is likelihood of further aid under the North Atlantic Treaty. The country's financial resources are already under heavy strain.

Our national needs require that this strain should not become too great. They require that the country's economic, social and physical strength be such that it can exert total effort in case of war without risking collapse. Those needs present a vast and complex problem.

But there is one national need that is reasonably clear: Congress ought to accept as a fact such unification of the services as now exists. Defense Secretary Johnson seems determined to make unification a complete reality. Yet he can scarcely succeed unless Congress co-operates.

It is Congress' business to question the President's budget figures. It has the right to grant the military's request for almost $3,000,000,000 more than Mr. Truman and his other advisers feel is safe and necessary. That can be done, however, without fostering disunity in the executive branch of the government by setting the Joint Chiefs of Staff above the President.

What Every Soldier
Prays At Easter

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—This is a nice Easter holiday because men don't have to talk to God alone in a foxhole. This hasn't been necessary for some four years. In crowded small churches or tall cathedrals of Christian lands families can worship Jesus in peace.

But many an ex-soldier, looking at the young son kneeling beside him, will wonder: "Will my boy some day have to—as I did—pray alone at this time in some place of war?" And he will offer up a small silent prayer of his own that this won't happen. And the prayers will be said in many languages—English, French, Dutch, Russian, German, Italian.

Easter has a peculiar niche in the heart of men in combat. At Christmas thoughts of religion aren't in their minds so much as the memories of their families. The broken packages full of small gifts come, and they are homesick to the bone. Stirred Soldier Deeply.

But at Easter the story of Christ, His death and rebirth, stirred the Doughboy of the second World War deeply. Part of it, perhaps, was tied up also with the rebirth of the particular land he was fighting across. He could lie in his muddy foxhole and see the green spears of grass springing from the winter-locked earth.

I don't know how the fighter pilot felt at Easter, climbing a tranquil sky. Probably he felt like the poet-soldier who wrote he had the sensation of being almost able to reach out and touch the hand of God.

But I do know how many of the walking soldiers felt. Some came to believe that they understood the Galilean carpenter better than any body. For the infantryman suffers most in war, and lives on faith. They came closer to him through the kinship of agony.

It isn't true, of course, that there were no atheists in foxholes. But the atheist was a particularly lonely man at Easter. His foxhole held only a man with an animal desire to keep on living. But the foxhole next to him held that and something more—a man with faith that if he were killed there was a spiritual life beyond.

It Made a Difference
I don't know that this made any difference to a German artillery shell. But it made a difference to the two men.

Wherever possible, the front line soldiers were brought back a few thousand yards at Easter, a group at a time, to attend brief religious services. This gave them a respite from rifle and mortar fire. But they were still within enemy bombardment range.

Once I attended one of these services in a clearing in Cork forest in northern Tunisia. After it was over a grimy infantryman said to me thoughtfully:

"You know this must puzzle God. We come out of the lines to pray to him. On the other side the Germans must be doing the same thing. Everybody praying for peace."

"But when we're through we go right back into the lines and start trying to kill each other again. Does that make sense to God? It doesn't to me."

Well, this year the problem doesn't exist. And that is the blessing of Easter—1949.

Hydrocephalus Symptoms Vary, Cause Uncertain

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Writer for NEA SERVICE

A condition occasionally occurs in which there is an accumulation of fluid inside the brain. Commonly known as "water on the brain," the medical term for this condition is hydrocephalus. It may either be present at birth or develop later.

When present at birth, the cause is believed to be some obstruction to the drainage of fluid out of the spaces within the skull which lie between portions of the brain.

The increase in fluid may enlarge the head even before birth and thus make childbirth difficult. More often, however, it is not noticed until some time after birth has occurred.

Hydrocephalus usually interferes with intelligence but this is not always so. In one famous case a man lived to the age of 29 with such a large and stretched skull that it was almost transparent, but his mental faculties were in excellent condition.

Symptoms Vary

In most cases of hydrocephalus no cause can be discovered. The symptoms also vary widely. There may or may not be mental changes present. Headaches, disturbances of vision or difficulty in walking are among the likely symptoms, but are not always present.

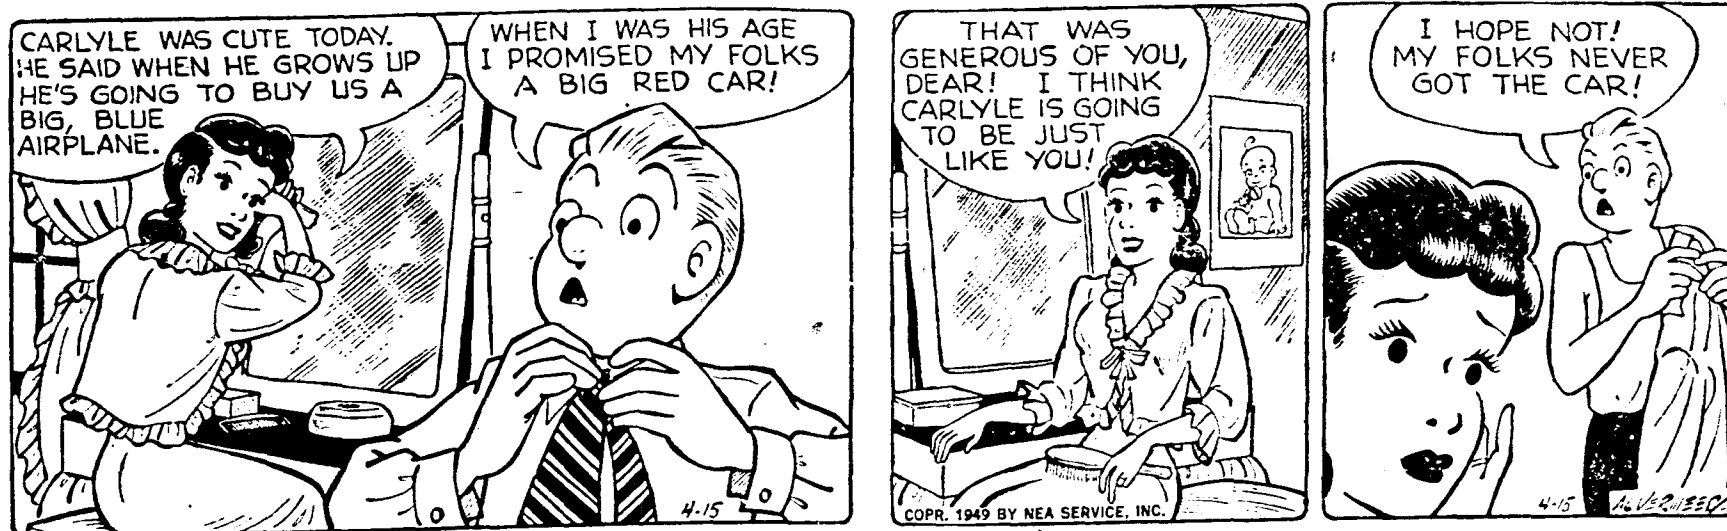

The outlook for those afflicted by this condition depends on the cause and on the speed with which fluid accumulates. If it comes on suddenly and fluid accumulates rapidly, the outlook, of course, is unfavorable. In many mild cases, however, recovery can, and often does, occur.

In some cases the condition can be permanently relieved by removing some of the excess fluid. This treatment is particularly worth considering early. Much more has to be learned about hydrocephalus, however, before prevention becomes possible or better treatments can be devised.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Question: What can be done for a tingling and tired feeling in the leg?
Answer: The first thing is to have a thorough examination to try to find out the cause. The most likely possibilities are in the nervous system or in the circulation. Only after this has been done will it be possible for the physician to advise a treatment.

10-Ship Hangar Will Be Built This Spring At Municipal Airport

A ten-ship hangar and a large shop building, both of all-steel construction, will be erected this spring at the Jacksonville Municipal Airport, north of the city. The concrete footing for the shop building has been poured. Construction work will progress as soon as the weather permits.

Announcement of a new stage of development at the airport was made at the annual meeting of the Jacksonville Airport Authority this week.

W. H. Kurtz was reelected chairman; Marvin L. Schuetz, vice chairman; Reba Hamilton, treasurer; Atorney W. L. Fay, secretary. Members of the board of commissioners are Kurtz and Schuetz; Merle Ingels, Carl Hamilton and W. H. Davenport.

The 10-ship hangar will be the "T" type, and is expected to be ready for occupancy of planes within a few months. The machine shop will be 60 by 60 feet.

The first stage of development was completed at the airport last fall. Present activities come under the second stage of development.

The Jacksonville Municipal Airport was included among 61 locations in Illinois listed Friday by the Civil Aeronautics Administration in the 1949 national airport program, as airports that should be constructed or improved.

The sites were chosen by the CAA on the basis of existing and anticipated demands for air service. Announcement of the plans does not represent a further allocation of federal funds, and no funds are provided for airports not included in the national program.

The Jacksonville Municipal Airport has been designated as a Class C airport, having runways between 2,700 and 3,700 feet.

EASTER PROGRAM

The Kum Join Us chorus will present an Easter program at McCabe Methodist church Sunday at 3 p. m.

A Mighty Short Summer, Wasn't It?

Remember Wednesday, when the thermometer stood at 30, there was a warm breeze out of the west and everybody that could leave their work got outside to soak up sunshine vitamins!

Fishermen dotted the shores of Lake Jacksonville. Some got "a good mess;" others reported, "not a nibble."

The photograph at the left shows Joe Donovan, 767 S. West street, as he cautiously reels in a spinner and pork link lure which he hoped would look attractive to some member of the bass family.

J. H. Edwards of Glasgow likes to fish in Lake Jacksonville. He holds his catch taken in an hour and a half: five crappie and two bullheads. A bobble of the float attracted his eye just as the camera clicked. Edwards employs two lines—one baited with small minnows for crappie and bass; the second dangles an earthworm for catfish.

At the right southpaw W. B. Rowland, 128 Richards street, tries out a brand new fishing rig: Bristol light casting rod, Shakespeare reel, bucktail and pork link lure. He thinks it's going to work O.K. before the summer is over.

Methodist Youth To Hold Services At Millwood

The Methodist youth of the entire city will hold an Easter sunrise service at the C. Y. Rowe residence, "Millwood," Sunday morning, at 7 o'clock. The service will be in charge of the youth, and the address will be given by Dr. Frank Marston, who will speak on "The Challenge of Easter."

Following the services, breakfast will be served at the Centenary church, under the direction of Rev. John Collins. In the event of inclement weather, the service will be held in the Centenary church at the same hour for which the outdoor service is planned.

Wherever it is driven, it offers authentic testimony as to its owner's good taste—his concern for the safety and comfort of his family and friends—and his general standing in the field of endeavor in which he has chosen to make his contribution to the world's affairs.

Indeed, if a complete list were published of those who own and drive this distinguished car—it would be obvious that it has become a hallmark of achievement in almost every walk of life.

That this should have happened is entirely logical—for Cadillac cars have been built, for almost half a century, to the most uncompromising standards of excellence. As a result, Cadillac stands alone in all the things that make a motor car a distinction to possess and a pleasure to utilize.

The 1949 Cadillac is the grandest of them all, in every way. Why not visit our showrooms and see for yourself? You are welcome at any time.

"You Can't Get Away From An Earthquake" Says Former Resident

"A storm you can see; a wind you can avoid; a quake goes right down in your burrow and rattles your teeth," is the personal observation of Dallas Hagan, Jr., formerly of this city, who experienced the disastrous earthquake Wednesday at Seattle, Wash.

Hagan was downtown at the time of the series of tremors and observed its effect on people and buildings. He has resided in Seattle for about two years, being a salesman for the United States Gypsum Company.

Writing to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Hagan of this city, he gave the following graphic description of what happened in downtown Seattle:

"I have just been through what I consider one of the most terrifying events that I have ever experienced. Forty-five minutes ago one of the men in the office and I went across the street to have lunch. We had just been seated when we became conscious of a strong vibration. By the time we looked up it dawned upon us that it was an earthquake.

"The vibrations became intense, and the noise was like an avalanche. It rumbled and shook the room. The shocks were quick and sharp. You were moved and thrown a foot. Along with this came the ominous rumble. People headed for the street.

Some, remembering the tall buildings around us, blocked the way. People were cool, but were frightened into trying to run away from it.

We got out the front door and noticed dust flying, the chips falling from the office building. The Smith tower 23 stories high was swaying back and forth. In the street below was a cloud of dust marking where some old brick buildings had fallen.

"People stood in the street and waited for more shocks, but none came. On people's faces you could see both fear and bewildered amusement. It was a great experience, but everyone was actually terrified by the tremendous force and mysteriousness. Here was something that no one could explain. An earthquake, yes, but you can't see it come or go—can only stand there and hear and feel it.

Phone System Dead
"My friend went to call his wife, and returned saying the phones were dead. When he entered the office building the chandeliers were swinging in great arcs, five feet off perpendicular. Plaster was cracked in spots throughout the place. Another one of our employees in the office on the twelfth floor was badly shaken. The room shook, the lights swayed, and the whole floor rocked. By the time these people came back across the street, you could hear

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

COPYRIGHT BY GREENBERG PUBLISHERS
DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Mr. and Mrs. Roberts take in problems with their lodgers when they attempt to relieve the wartime housing shortage in Great Falls, Mont. Roger, who uses the Roberts' possessions as if they were his own, is a big problem, but recently Captain Dick Morgan, his wife Betty and their baby, who live in the maid's basement apartment, have created a problem with their assortment of baby alters.

XXIII

I ASKED Betty to instruct her sitters to stay out of my part of the house. Betty sighed, said she'd get a new girl. The implication was that none who had worked for her—and me—would be willing to return to the job. She hinted that possibly I'd find it more to my liking to sit with the baby myself.

"I'd love to," I agreed, "when I'm home, anyway. But I can't make any promises to stay home, because sometimes I change my plans on the spur of the moment. I've got to be free to do that," I said, annoyed at being on the defensive. "But when I'm settled for the night, or lashed to the washing machine, I'll be delighted to take care of Caroline."

Betty got a new girl. She didn't fat, and she didn't have dancing parties. But she must have had a tapeworm. The refrigerator door banged on the hour and on the half hour like a faithful old clock. The sixth or so time it banged, I couldn't control myself. I took off for the kitchen, my kitchen. Standing by the sink, leaning over it so the juice wouldn't run down her front, was the sitter, eating a slice of watermelon.

I opened and shut my mouth a few times, priming the pump, before any words came. "Why are you eating out of my refrigerator?" I asked.

"I'm hungry," she replied accusingly. "Didn't Mrs. Morgan tell you what to have for your lunch?"

"Sure, I ate that."

"This is my icebox. You're not supposed to be in my kitchen at all," I snapped. "There's nothing left downstairs to eat," she snapped back.

I ASKED Betty to explain to her sitters that they mustn't use my kitchen nor help themselves to my food.

"Oh, dear," she cried. "I don't believe I'll ever be able to find a sitter to suit you. I guess I'll just have to stay home all the time myself." She looked at me as though I were deliberately making trouble for her.

"Surely there must be someone you can make understand that this is a two-family house now and that our half is not for her to make use of."

"Well, I'll try," Betty said, "but I'm about out of names."

She found one more girl to put up with me—a child of about 13. She arrived alone, but within a matter of minutes had spirited three little companions into the basement. I saw them sink up the garden walk, piping all the windows on that side of the house, but they did not see me behind a Venetian blind. They tip-toed down the basement stairs, quiet as mice.

The house began to rock on its foundation. I allowed four or five tremors to pass unnoted and then proceeded to the basement. The children were making so much noise they didn't hear me as I called to them, and when I didn't find them in the laundry or sitting room, I continued to the bedroom where I discovered them all in the closet. They screamed at my unannounced appearance.

"Girls, what are you up to?" I asked.

They giggled. One was clutching a large book in her arms. I looked at it. It was Betty's soapbook.

"Where did you get this?" I asked.

"Off the top shelf," one answered.

I looked at the height of the shelf and the size of the girls and wondered aloud how they had got the book down.

"Oh, we've been jumping for it, Mazie," indicating a wiry child, "jumped the highest. She reached it."

Leaving out the ethics of their helping themselves to things put up on top shelves, I suggested they might have got it more easily and more quietly by standing on a chair.

"Oh, jumping's more fun!" they chorused.

ON the days that Betty did stay home and take care of the Little Character herself, she had groups of other young mothers and their children to keep her company. From every nook and cranny they came—rooms over grocery stores, shack houses in backyards, hotels downtown. Often they were wheeling baby carriages piled with lap robes, pillows, books, sun-tan oil, bottles, diapers, and, of course, the baby. It was a pleasant sight to look out on: a large circle of young mothers lying around sunning themselves, smoking, drinking cokes, occasionally turning a baby over to brown on the other side or moving it out of the sun altogether, or changing it, or giving it a bottle. It made our garden seem useful and worth the effort to keep it in order.

I never had time to sit in it; it was as much as I could manage to mow the lawn. I never decided whether Rob was too heavy for such light work, or vice versa, or just allergic to work, period. He traded on the theory that outside work was gardeners' work, and if there weren't gardeners to be had, it wasn't his fault and he couldn't be expected to take a bail of clay in his hands and create one. Snow shovelers, ditto: Each time I mowed the lawn mower or the snow shovel, he followed me around, moving from window to window inside the house, tapping with his finger to get my attention; and when I looked up, he would shake his head dolefully and wig-wag me not to do it, that that work was too hard for me.

Well, as I said before, it was gratifying to see the nicely mowed lawn being appreciated.

Western Union "Cuts In" New Switch Center

Jacksonville began Friday to receive the benefits of the new era of ultramodern communications. At 7 a. m. lines from the local telegraph office were cut into the reperfector switching center at St. Louis, Mo. it was announced by E. P. Nelson, local Western Union manager.

Until Friday telegrams to and from Jacksonville were subject to manual relaying at Chicago where they were sorted by routing clerks and carried by girls to operators, who retyped them to another relay center on to their destinations.

Now these time-consuming steps have been eliminated. Messages transmitted by Jacksonville will be received at the St. Louis switching center on a telegraph device known as a printer perforator, which simultaneously prints the telegrams and punches combination of holes on a paper tape. Switching clerks, upon noting the destinations on the tape, will switch the tapes by touching push-buttons, or by using cords and plugs. The pressing of a button, or the placing of a plug into the proper jack, will cause the perforated tape to run through a transmitter which will automatically transmit the Baron Ernst von Weissnecker, Nazi wartime ambassador to the Vatican, was convicted by an all-American war crimes court in Nuernberg, Germany, of having helped plan aggressive war against Czechoslovakia. Use cream cheese to fill the celery and flavor it various ways: mix it with anchovy paste, or with minced canned pimento, or with chopped chives, or with finely chopped salted peanuts. Be sure to dry the celery stalks thoroughly before adding the filling; then cut each stalk in one- or two-inch sticks.

Man Apprehended At Jerseyville After Long Chase

Jerseyville—A resident of White Hall, Henry Clay Bradshaw, was taken into custody by Night Officer H. H. Blackorby about midnight Wednesday following a chase that terminated at the Henry Vale farm about four miles west of Jerseyville.

During a routine checkup of the eastern part of the city, Blackorby turned the police car he was driving into an alley at the rear of the Jacobs Lumber and Coal company. The lights of his car flashed onto another vehicle which was standing parked in the alley, and the latter vehicle started up as the police car approached.

Blackorby, who was alone at the time, circled the block and started pursuing the other car which was being driven at a rapid rate of speed. The chase continued till the cars reached the Vahle farm which is occupied by Charles Schmieder. The driver of the fleeing car drove his vehicle into the private drive there. He got out of the car and Blackorby who was in close pursuit placed him under arrest.

Blackorby placed Bradshaw in the police car and started to back out of the drive to the public highway. He was operating the car with one hand and had his gun in the other. Bradshaw suddenly grabbed the gun and wrestled it from Blackorby before he could get the car stopped.

About that time, Schmieder, who lives on the farm drove up and inquired what the trouble was. Blackorby explained briefly and stated, "he's got my gun and I'm going to take it away from him."

Blackorby walked into Bradshaw who had the gun trained on the former and thrust his finger in front of the firing mechanism. After a struggle Blackorby succeeded in wresting the gun from Bradshaw and covered him with it again.

Charges of having stolen property in his possession and burglary were filed here Thursday against Bradshaw.

The future students spent the day visiting classes and getting acquainted with the students and teachers. Lunch was served at noon by the home economics classes, under the supervision of Mrs. Guy Petty. During the eighth period, the music department, under the direction of Miss Nita Ford and the Dramatics club, under the direction of Richard Tendick, presented a program.

Reds Continue To Worry Chile

Santiago, Chile—(P)—Has Chile knocked out communism within its borders by outlawing the party? Many asked themselves that question before the recent congressional elections.

The answer now seems to be no, but communism in Chile is groggy (or enfeebled) under the government's blows for the past eighteen months. One militant foe of communism, the Accion Chilena Anticomunista (ACHA), has disbanded its fighting volunteers and auctioned off its headquarters equipment.

In the last congress, the communist party had 15 deputies and five senators. To replace its deputies, it was able to elect only five sympathizers in the so-called National Democratic front. In the new congress, it will have only three hold-over senators. One of these, the poet Pablo Neruda, is in hiding, perhaps abroad, charged with libeling the government. Another, Salvador Camacho, is in Mexico. The communists elected no fellow travelers to replace their two outgoing senators.

In their Chilean salad days, communist candidates polled 70,000 to 80,000 votes. The party claimed 50,000 members. It is impossible to estimate how many communist votes were cast in the recent elections, with Communist candidates barred by law.

Some 28,000 names of alleged communists were struck from the voting lists. Many former communist votes undoubtedly went to candidates for the communist-endorsed National Democratic front. Other reds probably cast their ballots for opposition candidates under other banners or else they abstained.

Of the three-year high school students that attended, 12 will complete their work at Eldred and five will finish at Kane this year. Eighth Grade pupils were from the following schools: Diamond, three students; Forest Oak, two; Berdan, four; Mt. Gilead, three; White Oak, one; Sunrise, one; Woody, two; Union, two; Pleasant Grove, one; East Brushy, four; Walkerville, two; West Lincoln, one; North Lincoln, five; Lutheran Mission, one; and Carrollton, 23.

Snowflakes Appear In Easter Parade Friday

Snowflakes joined the Easter parade Friday morning in the Jacksonville area by mingling with magnolia blossoms, forsythia, tulips, and other harbingers of spring.

Nature struck sharply and without warning in a complete reversal of form. Snow descended early in the morning on a scene which had been decidedly spring-like. Within a short time the seasonal cycle had been knocked entirely out of gear.

An inch or two of snow fell on the community, which had been led to believe that all disagreeable weather was a thing of the past. The temperature skidded to freezing after hitting a high mark of 80 degrees Wednesday.

Most of the snow melted soon after reaching the earth. But it left some slush that hardly conformed with Easter egg hunts, long-eared bunnies and other traditional signs of the season.

The Jacksonville area received a half-inch rainfall Thursday. The moisture was welcome to farmers, and the snow was not expected to result in any damage to vegetation.

Sunday To Mark End Of 1949 Sale Of Easter Seals

"When the people of Morgan county buy 1949 Easter Seals, they provide services to persons afflicted with cerebral palsy," said E. O. Pigott, chairman of the Easter Seal drive.

The current Easter Seal drive, which opened March 17, continues until Easter Sunday in 48 states, Hawaii and Alaska. Receipts from this sale will be used to aid persons with all types of handicaps, including many who have cerebral palsy.

"There are four cerebral palsied children in the class for motor handicapped (Miss Josephine Milligan's room) at Washington School. These children and also a three-year-old child with cerebral palsy are getting physical therapy treatments at this time from Mrs. Brangham, physical therapist. These children receive special education, speech correction and physical therapy treatments. All these children have shown a remarkable improvement over a period of time. With the recent addition of a physical therapist in Morgan county, complete facilities for the education and treatment are available for any child with cerebral palsy."

"These services are made possible by the people of Morgan county who support the Easter Seal sale."

which had begun to feel the gentle touch of warmer weather.

Fourteen years ago, April 7, 1935, this city was visited by a snowstorm similar to the one that struck this city Thursday night and Friday morning.

The files of the Journal Courier contain a story that four inches of snow fell 14 years ago. The temperatures ranged from 30 to 41 above zero.

All units are asked to come equipped with their flags. They should be accompanied by their leaders and as many of their unit committee members as possible. Cub packs should include their den mothers and den dads.

The group will have an opportunity to visit the Lincoln court house and home as well as the tomb. Each unit will be presented with a flag streamer and a number of memorial tulip popular seedlings for planting in conjunction with Arbor day.

Last year, 1700 boys and men took part in this event.

Pitchers Are Porter Problem

Christopher, Ill.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillian Porter has collected so many pitchers that it takes her three hours to wash 'em. She hasn't counted them since she passed the 700 mark.

The hobby Mrs. Lillian Porter started six years ago now fills a corner of the kitchen in her home here. Each pitcher has a story. Her prize came from Ireland and it's been in the family of her husband, Russell, for 115 years.

The pitchers range in size from a half-inch one to an 18-inch piece. Mrs. Porter, formerly of Indianapolis, Ind., says there isn't a piece of glassware among them. They've come from most of the 48 states and from several foreign countries.

She has pitchers shaped like cows, pigs, chickens, birds, miniature heads, and other oddities. With all these, she's on the lookout for more. Mrs. Porter says she would especially like a red pitcher shaped like a devil.

Wedding rings were set with gems during the Middle Ages and the Renaissance.

Plant and Cultivate SOYBEANS IN 20-INCH ROWS

A PROFITABLE SYSTEM FOR GROWING SOYBEANS

Here is a practical method of handling soybeans in 18- to 20-inch rows, three rows at a time—made possible by the rear-engine Model G with power-driven seeder and 60-inch tool bar cultivator.

Narrow rows give you these advantages:

1. Easier weed control—beans can be safely cultivated when small. Cultivator exactly matches planter row width.
2. Faster, cleaner and easier harvesting.
3. Bigger yields. (Official tests show 2 to 4 bu. per acre more.)

The extra bushels from narrow spaced rows will soon pay for the Model G seeder and cultivator used with this system. Stop in and talk it over.

Mel Patton Debut, Personal Fued Mark Michigan USC Meet

Los Angeles, April 15—(P)—Sprint king Mel Patton makes his 1949 debut tomorrow but a personal feud merits equal attention as Michigan State and Southern California clash in an intersectional track and field meet.

Upwards of 20,000 fans are expected to witness the affair and the lure of the flying Patton will account for many.

Patton is rated the world's fastest human. His 9.3 seconds mark has been accepted as a new world record for 100 yards by American authorities. He is the ruling 200-meter Olympic games champion.

He stated taining a little late this spring, but virtually coasted to a 9.8 speed trial in one 100-yard effort two weeks ago, and did 21.1 breezing at 220 yards.

Patton should have little trouble disposing of Michigan State's Fred Johnson, Bob Sheperez or Horace Smith.

Some are more concerned, however, with the rivalry between Michigan State's Jack Dianetti and Bob Chambers of USC.

Both are 880 yard craftsmen, but one or the other may go in the quarter mile and anchor the relay teams.

Some students believe the meet victory will hinge on the relay, final running event of the program.

Dianetti has a best time of 1 minute

Lost 412 Suits In Guessing Contest But He's Glad!

Denver, April 15—(P)—Harry Bitman, the little Denver tailor who was nicknamed for 412 suits in a football guessing contest last fall, is glad now that it happened.

"The publicity and good will I got out of that deal has more than paid the cost of those suits," he said.

"Brother, is business booming!" Bitman offered a free suit each week to any Denverite who could pick the winners of ten football games. For five weeks not a soul guessed them all. Bitman happily gave a suit a week to the fan who came closest.

Then fate lowered the boom. On one weekend in which football ran phenomenally true to form 412 people turned in perfect picks.

Bitman, who admits he didn't sleep for three nights, figured the cost of 412 suits at $22,248. He said it would tie up his modest little plant for months and maybe throw him into bankruptcy.

But after long consideration and against the advice of his attorney, who told him he could escape through a legal loophole, Bitman announced he would stand back of his promise.

Names of the winners were put in a fishbowl and Bitman started giving suits in the order of the draw. To date he has suited 264 people—an average of 13 a week.

Soon after he started the payoff, Bitman's dark cloud picked up a silver lining. Business grew by leaps and bounds.

Since last fall, Bitman has had to build two new shops in Denver to handle the trade.

"Everything sure turned out fine," he says.

Tony Lavelli Trades Sport For Song Career

New Haven, Conn., April 15—(P)—Tony Lavelli, Yale's All-America basketball star, decided today to pass up numerous professional cage game offers in favor of a music career.

"It was the toughest decision I've ever had to make," explained the popular Lavelli, the smooth and deadly scorer who led the nation's major colleges the past season.

Recently, Tony was offered $11,000 by the Syracuse club. He also was the first choice of many Basketball Association of America clubs, with Boston given the league's rights to deal with him.

He brought his collegiate career to a close early this month as a member of the East's team in the East-West battle at New York. While at Yale, he scored 1964 points in 97 games—a major college mark.

The handsome Lavelli, an accomplished musician, made his decision shortly after the Broadcast Music Corporation of New York bought three of his songs—"Cocktail Time at Dusk" and "Scottish Lad and His Lassie," ballads, and "You're the Boppest Bee-Bop," a novelty tune.

In announcing his verdict today, the dark-haired, handsome Lavelli, looked like a gent being freed from a weighty problem. He said he had been mulling it over for months.

"Selling those songs did it!" exclaimed Tony, an accomplished musician who plays the piano and accordion.

"Music it will be, I decided. And I immediately felt good. It was like turning on a light. Suddenly, I could clearly see what I wanted most to do. I felt right about it."

Tony's plans are to enroll at the Juilliard School of Music in New York next fall.

Home Runs Come In Clusters For Major Leaguers

New York, April 15—(P)—It looks like a good year for boys who pemon on rooftops around major league baseball parks. Home runs are coming in droves.

The season doesn't open until next week and the big league parks are a few sizes larger than most minor league enclosures, but take a look at what happened yesterday.

Fifteen major league teams—12 of them facing major league opposition—hit 30 home runs in exhibition games.

Four of the clubs hit three homers in a single inning. Only the Chicago Cubs failed to put the ball out of the lot at least once.

Home runs won for Chicago's Murrays—Said Gordon, Johnny Mize and Bobby Thomson—blasted successive round trippers off Cleveland's Bobby Feller. The Indians retaliated with three in a row of Dave Kozlo by Bob Kennedy, Jim Hegan and Early Wynn. And for good measure Kozlo added one for New York and Lou Boudreau and Mickey Vernon each had one for Cleveland. All this firing took place in Hickory, N. C.

The Chicago White Sox whipped Pittsburgh 4-3, at Memphis on the strength of home runs by Ralph Weigel and Cass Michaels.

Home runs also decided the issue as Cincinnati edged the New York Yankees, 2-1; the Philadelphia Phils downed Baltimore, 6-3, and the Boston Red Sox beat the Boston Braves, 6-2.

Cincinnati's tallies came on a home run by Ray Mueller with a man on base. Johnny Lindell's circuit clout was the only Yankee counter.

Del Ennis, Eddie Miller and Stan Lopata all connected in the fourth inning for the Phils.

And Johnny Peck's one-on blast clinched the Boston city series game for the American leaguers.

The Philadelphia Athletics got three in an inning against Savannah, Ga.—by Ferris Fain, Hank Majeski and Buddy Rosar.

Five for one club was tops for the day with the honors going to Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns. Dick Kokos of the Browns was the only player to get more than one. He got a pair. Al Zarilla, Jerry Priddy and Ken Wood got one each as the Browns whipped Texarkana of the big state league, 9-1.

Washington, the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn were held to one a piece, but Brooklyn's—by Billy Cox—gave the Dodgers a 3-2 edge over the Senators at Washington. Clyde Volmer hit one for Washington and Red Schoendienst for St. Louis.

Yankees And Dodgers Will Open Season With Converts On First Base

New York, April 15—(P)—Billy Johnson, last year's regular third baseman, will open the 1949 baseball season as the New York Yankees' first sacker. Manager Casey Stengel decided today.

Stengel's decision followed an announcement by Manager Burt Shotton of Brooklyn, that Gid Hedges, converted catcher, would be the Dodgers' first first baseman opening day.

Thus, with only days remaining before the championship races get under way, the two pennant contenders apparently have solved their biggest problem.

Of the two, the naming of Johnson creates more of a stir. The 30-year-old veteran infielder was given no consideration for the post until as late as one week ago.

A 294 batter in 127 games last year, Johnson appeared headed for utility work this season, having lost his job to Bobby Brown.

Then on April 8 Stengel moved Johnson to first where four candidates already had failed. Johnson has been there ever since.

"Johnson has surprised me with the way he took to the bag," Casey said today. "I didn't expect him to do as well as he's doing. I plan to start the season with him at first. Despite his size, he's only 5-8, Billy really can make that sacrifice bunt play to second."

The naming of Hedges came as no surprise.

"I said the first day of spring training that Gil Hedges would be my first baseman," Shotton said. "He still is and he'll stay there for 154 games, barring injury or a terrific batting slump. No first baseman in the league can replace Hedges as he hits."

Attorney Jerry Rolston, representing the actress, said an appeal will be made to Gov. Earl Warren for clemency. Miss Meredith, whose real name is Marjorie May Massow, is at liberty on $15,000 bond.

Glancis claimed he was lured into a lonely spot in nearby Laurel Canyon and beaten. He said he had disputed with Miss Meredith over possession of a $40,000 Hollywood home which they purchased jointly.

Also convicted of kidnapping in the case was Albert W. Tucker, 29, of Van Nuys. James A. Hatfield, 33, of Beverly Hills, policeman, was convicted of possessing a deadly weapon, and a fourth defendant, Damon W. Klinkenberg, 32, a cook, of assault with a deadly weapon.

The election was ordered by the National Labor Relations Board. It marked the first triumph for the UAW drive to unite all farm equipment workers in one union.

The CIO Executive board had ordered the Farm Equipment Union to merge with the UAW, but UFEW leaders defied the order.

"The election was the first of its kind since the UAW began an intensive organizing campaign late in January to take over all farm equipment plants after the CIO board's 60-day merger order went unheeded.

John W. Livingston, international vice-president of the UAW, said the election was "the beginning of the end of FEU."

Task Forces Enter New York Harbor

New York, April 15—(P)—Fighting ships in task forces 89 and 81 slipped into the harbor today to give New Yorkers their biggest eye-ful of Uncle Sam's naval might since October, 1945.

The vessels put into port to give their crews Easter liberty.

Biggest of the flotilla of 30 ships is the 45,000-ton supercarrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It is the flag ship of task force 89. The two naval groups consist of five carriers, 17 destroyers, four submarines and four survey vessels. They carry 20,000 sailors.

Only America's best can choose Air Force careers!

Sgt. Angelo D. LaSalle, who recently re-enlisted in the Air Force after 6 years of active duty.

Here are just three good reasons why you should try for an Air Force career

1. Unlimited advancement. There's a premium on performance in the new career Air Force, a new system of rewards and promotions based on your initiative and ability.
2. World's greatest schooling system. Start fast in your chosen specialty. More than 200 courses to train men to experts' status.
3. World-wide pooling of top grade vacancies. Automatic advances in lower grades and wide open opportunities at the top. No "ruts" in the new career Air Force.

CAN YOU MAKE THE GRADE IN THE U. S. AIR FORCE? If you can, now is the time to sign up and be somebody among the best in the land. Have a talk with your local recruiting officer about what these higher standards are and how they can mean bigger and better opportunities for you in an Air Force career.

Midwest Police Still Seek Gunman Who Stole Autos

Viroqua, Wis., April 15—(P)—A fleeing gunman still was sought by midwest police today as his companion was bound over for trial April 22 on a charge of auto theft.

Joseph Spiker, 18, of Route 3, Green Castle, Ind., waived preliminary hearing when he was arraigned before Vernon County Judge Lincoln Neprud. The trial date was set and he was remanded to jail. No bond was set.

But police still were without clues to the whereabouts of Herman Monick, 36, of Pontiac, Mich., who they said fled in a series of stolen and abandoned cars after firing a pistol into a squad car Wednesday night.

Dr. Raymond Hirsch, of Viroqua, and Deputy Sheriff Floyd Potter gave chase in a squad car after Dr. Hirsch's car was stolen by Monick. Potter's squad car forced Monick into the ditch, but Monick blazed away with a pistol and fled. Dr. Hirsch was cut with flying glass.

Spiker, meanwhile, was arrested in another stolen car.

White Sox Pilot Picks Red Sox To Win Flag

Chicago, April 15—(P)—Manager Jack Onslow, whose Chicago White Sox resumed their city series tussle with the Chicago Cubs in Wrigley Field today, picks Boston to win the 1949 American League pennant.

"I have to pick Boston, although I'm looking for a great race to the wire between the Red Sox and Cleveland," Onslow said today in a pre-season statement. "I'll string with Boston because of improved pitching, especially if Cecil Hughson comes back as expected."

Onslow, who is 59, is making his major league managerial debut with the Sox after 35 years in baseball as a big league player, coach, and scout and minor league manager.

"As for my own ball club, I said all along we wouldn't finish in the cellar and I'm sticking to that," the new Sox boss said. "In fact, I think we stand a good chance of finish ahead of both Washington and St. Louis and possibly Detroit."

"If Gus Zernial and Pat Seery supply that long ball hitting, we are going to get a lot of runs in clusters—and that's always a big help to average pitching."

$17,000 Collected For Men Who Tried To Save Kathy

San Marino, Calif., April 15—(P)—Heroism is beginning to pay dividends for the men who risked their lives to bring little Kathy Fiscus from an abandoned well.

Clark Bell, chairman of the rescue fund, said today approximately $17,000 has been contributed so far; that 3,300 letters have been received "and they are still coming."

Bell said his committee has not yet determined who will share in the fund, or whether it will be prorated to individuals on the basis of their contributions.

"We intend to talk with many of those who were on the scene before we decide on the disbursement," he declared.

At Last He Gets To Stay In U.S.; Gets Jail Sentence

Mobile, Ala., April 15—(P)—Errol A. Callender, 20-year-old native of Trinidad, wanted so badly to come to the United States that he stowed away on American-bound ships four times.

Three times he was deported in short order. Now, after his latest attempt, he will get to stay 18 months in jail.

Federal Judge John McDuffie today sentenced Callender to 18 months in prison for violating U. S. immigration laws. When his term is up, he will be deported again to Trinidad.

Three More Enter Indianapolis Race

Indianapolis, April 15—(P)—Three more entries for the annual 500-mile race May 30 were announced by the Indianapolis motor speedway tonight.

Addition of Robert J. Flavell of Los Angeles, W. J. Lutes of Detroit and Stephan Truchan of Gary, Ind., increased the field to 52. Entries postmarked before midnight tonight will be accepted, and the official list probably will be complete until Monday.

Entries announced earlier today were those of Norm Olson of Grosse Pointe, Mich., and Bayliss Levrett of Glendale, Calif.

Cominform Names Enemies Of Peace; Pope Among Them

Bucharest, Romania, April 15—(P)—The Cominform bulletin declared today that President Truman, Pope Pius XII, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, Winston Churchill and Generalissimo Franco of Spain are potential aggressors.

The newspaper, published by the communist international information bureau, said those men and others it listed "will not be able to unleash war in the face of the mounting movement for peace and freedom."

(The publication elaborated on a new communist propaganda line which seeks to picture the Soviet Union, her satellites and world communists as striving to maintain world peace.)

Others listed as potential aggressors included U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi, Dr. Kurt Schumacher, leader of the German Social Democratic party, and "American multi-millionaires, the militarists, right-wing socialists x x x and the German Hitlerists."

DIE IN EXPLOSION

Silver City, N.M., April 15—(P)—Three men died today in an explosion 500 feet down in the Burro Chief Floupspar mine at Tyrone, N.M. A fourth man escaped injury.

Sheriff Bartley McDonald said the men were cutting into a new bank of rock and setting dynamite charges. Apparently, one of the charges went off prematurely.

CHURCH LEADER DIES

Sterling, Ill., April 15—(P)—Mrs. C. N. Timmons, an active leader in local and national Methodist church affairs, died at her home here today. She had been ill three months. Interment will be at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Monday.

PROPOSES NEW WHITE HOUSE

Washington, April 15—(P)—A new steel, bronze and marble White House that "would last as long as the pyramids" was proposed today by Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House appropriations committee.

Cannon strongly opposed spending money to renovate the executive mansion.

Dodgers Defeat Yankees 6 To 1

New York, April 15—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, led by rookie outfielder Cal Abrams, clipped the New York Yankees, 6-1, today in the first game of their annual pre-season series.

Abrams slashed a single and double and drove in two runs to lead the Dodgers' seven hit attack against Vic Raschi, Tommy Byrne and Wally Hood. A crowd of 27,731 fans paid to see the game, the first of a three game set.

Duke Snider homered in the eighth off rookie Hood for the final Brooklyn run.

MORGAN TO CALIFORNIA—1849 'Stoped To Graze and Make a Coffin'

By Cecil Tendick

The strong, day-long winds common to the Great Plains were as uncomfortable and discouraging in 1849 as they are today.

"June 18. Very windy all day. Drove about 18 miles and nooned. Grass very bad. Here we struck the hills and gravel. Drove 10 miles in the evening. Grass very bad all the way. This place may be known to the traveler by the hills coming down to the river and their is a pile of rocks on the left hand side of the road. Had no grass nor wood that night. Rained and wind blew tremendous hard. None of the boys got any supper or tents stretched on account of the wind. The oxen stampeded. Mules fared badly.

"June 19—Wind blew very hard all day. Struck the sand in 3 or 4 miles after we left camp and continued very bad for about 3 or 4 miles. Crossed a sand creek that was very hard pulling. Drove about 18 miles, no grass until we struck what is called the Big Timbers. Here we found a skirt of woods about 100 or 150 yards in width and about 12 in length. Here we found a slew with plenty of rain water and tolerable good grass, the first we had saw in 46 miles. But could not be allowed the privilege to unharness our mules here. I had the pleasure to eat the first Raw Bacon that I ever was compelled to eat.

"Here we mounted the high gravelly ridges. We passed a Block House on the Bank of the River. Their was several dead Indians bodies found in a cave not far from the roadside. We passed a grave in the forenoon that had the appearance of being an American. Their was seven Buffalo heads placed on it and a pole about 20 feet high stuck in the grave with an Indians scalp on the top and just below was a Flag made out of a Flannel shirt. We camped not far from the River. Had plenty of good wood and grass. Drove 30 miles.

The Train Arrives At Bent's Fort

"June 21—Clear and warm. Started at halfpast six. Crossed Salt and Sandy Creek. Got to Bent's Fort at 12 o'clock. This is constructed of sun dried Bricks and the Establishment covers about one acre of land. Here we found one white man, some Indian squaws and some Mexican Children and in the center of the yard was an old Cast Iron screw for the purpose of Packing Buffalo Robes, fur, skins, etc. We drove about two miles and Encamped in the First Bend of the River. Here we got the best well water that I ever drank on this River. Also near the Fort we overtook the Pack mules and the Celebrated Col. Jackson's companies awaiting for us to come up and join with them. Here we found a man that had just come in from the mountains. He informed us that a Mexican had made 4 dollars per day and had nothing but a stick sharpened to dig with. This is almost too good news to be credited."

"It was too good to be true. Colorado's gold is mostly in hard quartz. Mining it requires a lot of expensive machinery.

The reader is requested to observe that Mr. Rees then thought $4 a day a staggering sum. He was to entertain different notions within a few months.

The sudden and fierce storms of the great plains dazzled men accustomed to more moderate climate zones. Wind and rain storms hit the train unexpectedly and with such terrific force that neither man or beast could face them.

Storm Causes Accident; Morgan Man Dies

Mr. Rees commented on them several times. Tragedy accompanied one sudden storm.

"Sunday, 26 of June—Drove about 10 miles. Stopped and grazed two hours. Very hot, harnessed up and drove on 4 and their came up a very sudden Rain. The Lead horses of the front wagon turned directly around. The driver, Mr. W. W. Sims, made an attempt to leap out. By seceding he got entangled in some way so that he fell and about the same time all the spooks gave way and let the point of the hub fall on his right Breast which happened about half-past four o'clock and about sunset he Departed his life after suffering three hours of the most Excruciating Pain that I ever witnessed in my life.

"The Pain was so severe as to cause him at times to wish some of us to Shoot him and put an end to his pain. He asked me to stay by him and I done so. I had my tent pitched for him to be put in. He had the attention of three very good Physicians, but no relief could be given."

"He was in his 26 year. Born in Madison county, Ky., at the Foot of the Big Hill. His Father moved from their to Jacksonville, Ill., in the year 1828, which place he has resided ever Since. He was the Son of Mr. Ignatius Simms. He had along one Brother to Lament his Death and several Friends. The Train Drove on about two miles and Encamped and sent back a small wagon and wheel to fill the Place of the Broken one. So we changed wheels, loaded up and drove up in the camp 12 o'clock at night. Their was a false alarm in the knight caused by water running by a snag in the River.

"Tuesday, 26—Drove three miles and stopped to graze and make a coffin. Drove on about 12 miles. Rained in the Evening. All hands got wet before we had time to put out the mules and get supper. Rained very hard in the knight. All hands literally mad.

"Wednesday, 27—Started at half past six. Drove 17 miles and crossed the Clearest stream of water that I had saw. It came with a very rapid current from the Top Of Pikes Snowy Peak, which was about 20 miles distant.

After going one mile further we came to a mound which resembled an Old Church Bell and was about 100 feet above the level of the Plains and about 100 feet in Diameter at the base and was 50 yards to the left of the road and was of a soft slaty nature. From the top of this Peak you could see the mountains on the west, northwest and as far East and South as Eye could behold.

A Story About An Oxen Stampede

"Just after passing it we came to the River. Here we came up to the ox Train and found that they had had a perfect stampede. Nearly every team started at the same time and in a full run and down hill at that.

"One wagon was upset and tore all to smash. Another with the hind wheel broke every spoke out. One ox had one horn broke off, two wagons running over him at the same time. Several others badly hurt, besides several men pretty badly hurt. Here we encamped in the Rain for the Night.

"Doc. Roberts and several others was selected to pick out a buring ground and Dig a grave at half past 5 o'clock the horn was sounded. The most of the two Companies assembled to hear the Funeral Services of our departed Friend and Brother Traveler. There was a hymn sung and some Presbyterian performances that I did not understand after which their was a short Sermon Delivered by a Methodist Minister that belonged to the ox Train. After which he was borne about one mile to the top of a very high Hill I suppose to be about 100 feet above the water Directly East of Pueblo (Pueblo, Colo.). This is a fort built by all other Spanish houses, sun dried Bricks, all the doors and windows open inside. There is But one gait or pass way out.

"Here was Several graves, two that had the appearance of Catholics and two that was picketed by Punctoons. Here, with the honors of war, 36 fires by Capt. Evans and company, we deposited our Friend about 4 feet deep. After filling up the grave we piled a quantity of stones on the grave and then left for camp. At one o'clock it rained just after I had came in off guard. I was not sorry my time Expired before it came."

Tomorrow—A Prospecting Trip.

Cass School Head, J. B. Walrich, Resigns Post

Virginia—J. Benjamin Walrich, who has been superintendent of the Virginia elementary and high school for the last four years, recently tendered his resignation to the board of education members on Monday. He has been offered several better salaried positions.

Since Supt. Walrich has been the head of the local school system the high school curriculum has been broadened by the addition of ten courses. This has included the securing of a qualified girl's physical education instructor and a full time band instructor.

During his first three years here Mr. Walrich has taught boys' physical education in the seventh and eighth grades and was the grade school coach. During that time the Virginia grade school teams won about two-thirds of their basketball games and two trophies. Last year the Virginia grade school track team made a creditable showing, and pushed Beardsdown rather hard in the Cass county grade school track meet.

This year Mr. Walrich has been superintendent of the Virginia community unit district, and has had supervision of eight country schools in addition to the town elementary schools and high schools.

The Walrichs have been very active in church work and civic affairs. Mr. Walrich was president of the local Kiwanis club last year. He is very much interested in athletics for both boys and girls.

Mr. Walrich will finish the school year if his resignation is accepted.
